President/CEO, Safe-T-Proof

Biographical Information

With more than 10 years of disaster preparedness experience under his belt, Michael Essrig presently serves as President and CEO of Safe-T-Proof. As company president, Essrig is responsible for all aspects of Safe-T-Proof's operations, including sales and marketing, and he currently supervises the more than 40 employees operating out of two offices in Westlake Village and Burbank, California.

A first generation Californian, Essrig's professional highlights have found him serving Southern California since the inception of his disaster preparedness career when he was working out of his very own garage. Nearly two decades after the famous Sylmar earthquake where he found himself barely escaping a falling bookcase, Essrig couldn't stand the thought of another quake occurring and not knowing if his own children would be safe. A self-starter with an entrepreneur spirit, Essrig set out to "safe-t-proof" his own home. He had such peace of mind when he was finished that he launched a company that now serves as the leader in commercial, institutional and governmental disaster preparedness services.

In his spare time, Essrig can usually be found playing basketball and jet skiing with his children. When not actively participating in outdoor sports, he enjoys spending time with his family and reviewing screen plays his 12-year old aspiring writer/director daughter develops.

A resident of Westlake Village, Michael has been married to wife Lori for 18 years and they have two children: Shannon age 10 and Breeana age 12. Completely dedicated to making this world a safer place for children, pets and his fellow man, Essrig is involved with numerous organization including, various Parkinson's charities, HELP (an organization which serves children who are physically and mentally challenged), PETA, the International Facility Management Association, BICEPP and the Association of International Architects.
